

Border County Notes.

LIVINGSTON.

The institute for colored teachers will convene for a two weeks' session in Chillicothe June 28th.

The Chillicothe police, the papers say, will at some convenient season raid a notorious and noisy negro crap joint in that city.

George Pollard, proprietor of the Sherman House, in Chillicothe, who is known as a bad man, is under arrest for pulling "a gun" on a man.

Walter E. Warren and ex-Mayor Frank S. Miller, two good and hustling young Chillicotheans, are pushing the organization of an athletic club for the city.

The citizens of Dawn and Mound township are making a vigorous fight before the county court against the licensing of a saloon in their community.

Phil Wilcox of Fairview caught a few days ago a mole, the skin of which was as striped as the American flag. He has it now stuffed and will preserve it as a great curiosity.

A post-office official is said to be in Chillicothe investigating the charges of sales of post office appointments in the Second district by C. A. Loomis, erstwhile Republican candidate for congress.

Harry Roof was arrested June 4th at Chillicothe on a telegram from the sheriff at Burlington, Iowa. He is charged with burglary in that city. The prisoner was taken back to Iowa next day.

A watch-dog in Chillicothe the other night prevented the capture of a burglar that was pursued by the police. Just as the officer had him almost within his grasp the dog caught the guardian of the law and Mr. Burglar got away entirely.

The proprietors of $1 a day hotels and boarding houses in Chillicothe are going to make a "kick" before the city council on account of the discrimination in the present license law that taxes them because they exhibit a sign, while those that are satisfied to run without that adjunct escape the license tax altogether.

There is a doctor in Chillicothe, so the Tribune claims, who causes the deaf to hear and the blind to see, and can do almost anything along such lines except raise the dead. No well-bred doctor would disturb the dead, it would be unprofessional. That's a part of their business—helping people to shuffle off the mortal coil.

The Grand River Medical association held its session in Chillicothe June 10th. Dr. E. S. Wagner presided, with Dr. A. J. Simpson as secretary. Many interesting papers were read by distinguished members of the profession. The election of new officers resulted in the choice of Dr. A. J. Simpson of Chillicothe, the youngest member of the society, for president; F. W. Burke of Laclede, secretary, and R. Barney, Sr., Chillicothe, treasurer.

Chas. Caswell, colored, who has lived in Chillicothe nearly all his life, was arrested Wednesday of last week on suspicion of being implicated in a mysterious shooting affray that took place in that city a few days previous, between a white man and a negro. After being "sweated" for awhile he was released for lack of evidence. He now threatens to sue the city for false arrest. Since his release it has been learned that the hat found at the place of the shooting, in which appeared the name of C. L. Goodale, was given to the negro by that gentleman. This fact added to the other circumstance that Caswell is now wearing a new hat confirms the first suspicion that Caswell is the negro who was seen running from the scene of the shooting.

MARRIAGES.

Louis J. Scharf of St. Joseph and Mrs. Ella G. Bowers of Chillicothe. A. J. Miller of Chillicothe and Miss Sallie McKee Armistead of Mexico.

Donnelly W. Jones and Miss Alberta Coe, both of Chillicothe.

Frank McClure of near Jamesport and Miss Mina Stout, one of Chillicothe's public school teachers.

RANDOLPH.

A joyful event to Wabash employees in Moberly was the arrival of the pay car last Tuesday.

Clay Laniton of Moberly now languishes in the Huntsville jail because of his inability to furnish $1,000 bail under a charge of forgery.

Jno. Wolf, a farmer living just west of Moberly, received a broken leg June 9th by being thrown from a wagon attached to a pair of runaway horses.

On the hearing of a motion before Recorder Proctor of Moberly the scale ordinance, which requires all weighing of bulky products for sale to be weighed on the city scales, the ordinance was declared unconstitutional and void.

The handsome brick residence of P. Henry Nise, No. 203 South Williams street, Moberly, was almost completely destroyed by fire June 9th. The fire was of incendiary origin. The loss is covered by insurance of $3,500 on the building and $1,000 on furniture.

Joe Darby of near Moberly not long since posted four of his own hogs and at the sale bought them in. The hogs when mere pigs wandered into a neighbor's feed lot, returning to their own home when the neighbor had sold the stock he was feeding. The pigs had grown so during their absence that the true owner failed to recognize them upon their return.

MARRIAGES.

J. D. Martin and Miss Urath Wirt, both of Moberly.

Jeff Davis and Miss Bessie Vince, both of Moberly.

Wm. Moore of Audrain county and Miss Phoenix Roberts of Randolph.

Aubrey Hammett of Huntsville and Miss Oleta Wise of McCredie, Callaway county.

DEATHS.

James G. Baker, an old and exemplary citizen, died at his residence in Huntsville, June 7th, of hemorrhage.

SALINE.

The county court has made an additional appropriation to complete the road along the river bank below Miami.

Colvert Bros. of Marshall lost their big livery stable by fire the morning of June 6th. The loss is estimated at $4,000 with only $1,300 insurance.

Henry Tickemyer, a prominent farmer of the vicinity of Shackelford, was killed by lightning while feeding stock on his farm the morning of June 10th. He was a leading Republican of the county and well liked socially.

Lewis Calder, an industrious Marshall negro, fell from the excursion train going to Kansas City, June 5th, and was instantly killed. His body was returned to his home where it was buried with Masonic honors Tuesday of last week.

Tuesday afternoon of last week five prisoners escaped from the county jail at Marshall. Three of them were shortly recaptured by pursuing citizens and the other two the next morning. The escape was effected by the removal of the bricks from a newly repaired place in the wall that was made a few days previous by three prisoners. The job was an easy one as the mortar had not yet become hardened.

E. J. Moorman, son of the C. P. minister at Mayview, jumped from the Hummer just as the train was pulling into Slater the night of June 7th and fell with his left leg under the wheels of the train. Amputation was performed by Drs. Manning, Howard and Ford. The young man, 19 years of age, was a student at Missouri Valley college and had been a good boy and student until recently, when he had gotten into bad company. R. E. Ward and T. C. Stewart were on the train with him. They could give no very connected story of how they came to be there.

MARRIAGES.

Louis Tuck of St. Louis and Miss Annie Storts of Slater.

W. T. Rea of Yancey Mills, Albemarle county, Virginia, and Miss Maggie E. Duggin of Slater. The couple had been sweethearts 23 years ago, at which time an engagement of marriage had existed between them.

DEATHS.

At her home in Slater, the morning of June 8th, Mrs. Bettie Rogers, aged 54 years, 10 months and 18 days.

LINN.

Large blocks of Marceline people received invitations last week to meet the grand jury.

Thos. A. Smedley has been appointed justice of the peace for Marceline township, vice J. T. Laird, resigned.

Judge James Howe of Bucklin is recovering from a recent attack of the heart. For a time it was thought he must die.

Charley Butler late of Marceline has removed with his family to Brookfield, where he has secured a position with the H. & St. J. R. R.

The inquiry now agitating the minds of Brookfield "curious club" is, "which of the three members of the township board fell into the creek?"

Thos. Clark delivered a lecture last Friday night in the Linneus opera house on "Buried Cities of the Old World and the Fulfillment of the Prophecies."

Rev. Cox of Laclede recently received a newspaper through the mails under the wrapper of which was a very small turtle—dead. The mystery is how it got there.

J. R. Fox, under indictment at Linneus for grave-robbing, at the eleventh hour, after his bond had been forfeited, came into court, gave new bond and had his case continued to next term.

Amend & Bevier Brothers, mercantile firm of Brookfield, have made an assignment to Joseph Claybrook of Callao, for the benefit of their creditors. Liabilities, $6,000, invoiced assets, $11,000.

Miss Celia Stewart of Browning has instituted suit against the railroad company for fractured jaw and internal injuries received in the freight wreck, near Purdin, recently. She was a passenger on the train.

The iron bridge spanning Yellow Creek, southeast of Brookfield, is in danger of tumbling down unless the county court shall adopt means to prevent the cutting of the current on the west side or move the bridge up the stream.

The Marceline postmaster, at the request of the ministers of the town, changed the Sunday opening hours so as not to interfere with the morning religious services. Thereupon the Journal with true partisan malignity began to kick. If Republicans knew there was such a thing, they would rebel against the law of gravitation, when Democrats are in office.

A. C. Martin, a Marceline "knight of the razor and shears," had a narrow escape from death Monday night of last week. During the day he filled up on the "devil's elixir" and then concluded he would go to Topeka, Kansas. In trying to board a Santa Fe freight train as it was pulling out of the yards he fell with his coat tails on the rails, which were cut off by the wheels and he was dragged a considerable distance, bruising his face considerably.

The lawyers of Linn county last week during the Linneus term of circuit court effected an organization to be known as the Linn County Bar association. A. W. Mullins was elected president; C. C. Bigger and A. A. Bailey, vice-presidents; B. L. White, secretary; Geo. L. Joyce, assistant secretary; T. M. Bresnahan, treasurer. The organization is intended for the social, moral, religious and professional good of the membership.

MARRIAGES.

J. V. Martin and Miss Mary Barker, both of Brookfield.

Curt Stevenson and Miss Maggie B. Morris, both of Linneus.

L. M. Murphy of Hutchinson, Kansas and Miss Eva L. Nash of Marceline.

CARROLL.

It is given out that Taylor Ray has been recommended for postmaster at Bosworth.

Jno. H. Cleary, grain dealer, shipped 15,000 bushels of corn from Norborne within a few days last week.

R. A. Spears of Carrollton has obtained much relief for his heart trouble by a course of treatment at Excelsior Springs.

The Republican-Record says reliable authority gives the new pension board for Carroll as follows: Drs. Peter Austin, Hynds and Newland.

The new marshal for Carrollton has inaugurated the commendable custom of having the streets in the business part of the city cleaned once each week.

A Bosworth lady desires a parrot that can swear around the house so that she will not become lonesome during the absence of her husband.

W. E. Calvert is out in a card in the Sentinel denying the many bad stories put in circulation concerning him during his absence from the state, and asserting that his absence was not caused by any dishonest motives, and that he has accounted and settled for every cent charged against him.

Two 87-year-old citizens of Carroll, Peter Nuss of near Coloma and John H. Parry of near Bogard, were in the latter place on business one day last week. It sometimes really appears as though some Missouri people would have to be shot on the day of judgment, reasoning from the age to which they live.

Clarence Hudson, employed by Lem Barnes of near Norborne, was struck by lightning, June 9th, while sitting in a swing that was suspended to two trees in the yard. The bolt struck the tree and a part of it descended the rope of the swing, striking Hudson "on the arm, burning it, then passing down his leg, tearing his shoe sole off." He was rendered unconscious, but Dr. Lowrey soon brought him around all right.

Two one-legged men, W. F. Tayon and Louis Brennan, had a fight in Carrollton Tuesday of last week. The hostilities were caused by Brennan insisting on visiting at Lyons' house where he was an unwelcome guest to that gentleman. The battle was only ended after Lyons was knocked down and received an ugly gash behind one of his ears from a cane in the hands of his antagonist. Both men were arrested and both cases dismissed upon investigation.

HOWARD.

Peter Owens, an experienced miner, has leased the coal mine about one mile from Glasgow, situated near the Wabash branch road. He will begin the work of taking out the coal in a short time.

Will McCrary has been held by Squire Cockerill of Glasgow in the sum of $300 for the burglary of and larceny of flour from the Glasgow mill. At latest accounts he had not furnished the bond.

The frequent occurrence of runaway teams, caused by leaving the animals standing in the streets unrestrained while still hitched to the vehicle, has caused the passage of an ordinance forbidding such practices in Glasgow.

Some uncharitable thief Monday night of last week stole from the barn of Mrs. Perkins in Glasgow the only set of wagon harness her son possessed in his business of public "hauling." The loss is an especial hardship in this case as the son's delivery business was the only means of support for the mother and son.

T. L. Lewis of Glasgow has a fine milk cow that within the past three weeks has been reduced from 56 pounds of milk per day to about three quarts at a milking. She is stiff in the hips, with the udder much swollen. Another peculiar feature of the disease is that the milk appears dry, coming from the teats in strings. This is the second cow Mr. Lewis has had affected in a similar manner within the past two months. Who can tell the nature and cause of the disease.

Hon. T. I. Dines, still being in such a condition of physical health as to be incapacitated for the duties of

A Life Saved.

A FOND DAUGHTER WAS NIGH TO DEATH.

Frank B. Trout Tells a Reporter of How His Daughter's Life Was Saved. All Parents Should be Interested in This Narrative.

From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

Using as a nucleus for his investigation the rumor that the life of the daughter of Frank B. Trout, well known in Detroit, Mich., real estate circles, had been saved, a reporter called on Mr. Trout at his office, 108 Griswold Avenue. Mr. Trout showed some hesitancy in giving his opinion for publication, but finally said: "Circumstances and a father's love for his child forced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, but not until the whole medical profession had exhausted their skill. At the age of fourteen we had to take our daughter from school owing to her health. Before this she had been in the best of health, happy and in the best of spirits. She began to fall away and became pale and languid. She was so weak that she would fall down in a faint every time she tried to walk unsupported. The best of physicians attended her, but she continued to grow weaker and seemed to be gradually fading away. "When she was fifteen she weighed only ninety pounds, and the doctors said it was anemic. Several physicians said she might outgrow it, but that it would no doubt terminate in consumption. No doctor we could help her, and we concluded ourselves, we must lose our child, as she was growing weaker every day. "We had tried all the well-known remedies, and finally about a year ago I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and took them home. That day I had read of a case about the same as my daughter's, and decided to give them a trial, though I must confess I did not have much faith. Before she had taken all of the first box we noticed a change for the better. She, however, gained strength daily and looked brighter. Every one noticed the change, and I bought two more boxes for her. "When she had taken two boxes she was strong enough to leave her bed, and in less than six months was something like herself. To-day she is entirely cured, and is a big, strong, healthy girl, weighing 130 pounds, and has never had a sick day since. "I do not think she uses them now, though I always keep them in the house. My wife and I have recommended them to our neighbors, and sent a few to another young girl who seems to be in the same condition as my daughter. Had not Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my daughter's life, I would not recommend them to any one. I know they do all and more than is claimed for them, and I am glad to recommend them to the world. I know Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my daughter's life, and that is enough for me."

Subscribed and sworn to before me this fourth day of March, 1897.

ROBERT E. HULL, JR., Notary Public.

Wayne County, Michigan.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. In women they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

An Eulogy to Lee.

the presidency of Central college, the board of curators have elected E. B. Craighead of the class of '83 to the position. Mr. Craighead is a native of Callaway county, and has taught in Missouri, Tennessee, North and South Carolina and is at present president of Clemson college, South Carolina, an institution with $100,000 annual income and 900 students. After completing his college course at Central he studied at Leipzig university, Paris and other European cities.

The Kansas City excursion of Saturday and Sunday, June 5th and 6th over the C. & A. R. R., was patronized by 167 Glasgow people, three fourths of whom were negroes. Sunday excursions are bad for the morals of a community and if they must be patronized it were better better to leave them to the colored population. It appears right to us that the better class of the white population would at least avoid the Sunday excursion patronized so largely by the worse element of the negro population. If they have no respect for the divine law they should at least respect themselves to that extent.

MARRIAGES.

George Comstock and Lena Avery, both of Myers.

Dr. Oliver Jones of Kansas City and Mrs. Mattie P Davidson of Glasgow.

MACON.

The war in the Macon city council, caused by the tie in that body between the two parties, has been terminated by the mayor agreeing to a division of the spoils.

They have a case in the Macon circuit court, Ratliff vs. Rooks, which the Macon papers mysteriously call the "bald head case," and which they say has been in the supreme court seven or eight times.

The palace hotel, Macon, has been sold to Mason & Roberts and W. S. Thompson of the Tremont. Jno. H. Mason will take charge of the purchase as chief clerk, and the Tremont & Palace run under the joint proprietorship of the Palace Hotel company.

Jno. Snider vs. Wells E. Floyd, a damage suit for alleged slander, tried at the present term of circuit court, resulted in a verdict for defendant. Plaintiff charged defendant with slandering him in that he said plaintiff had been guilty of stealing corn and he could prove the charge. Defendant denies uttering the slander and the jury evidently believed him, hence their verdict.

MARRIAGES.

Ed. A. Demeter and Miss Alma Katherine Hess, both of Macon.

Jno. M. Hamel, recorder of Macon county, and Miss Annie Granz of Palmyra.

THE New York millionaire who lived for years in a house five feet wide which he built for spite, gave his soul mighty little chance to expand.

Rev. Dr. E. C. Gordon, the scholarly president of Westminster College, is an admirer of Gen. Robert E. Lee, as all Virginians are. Recently Dr. Gordon related to some friends several incidents in Lee's life showing the imperturbability of that splendid Confederate chieftain.

"During the years Gen. Lee was president of Washington and Lee university," said Dr. Gordon, "it was the custom for every speaker in that institution to say something in praise of its head. Commencement orators of all grades, the sophomore and the statesman, stood on the rostrum and flung bouquets at the president. During all this time Gen. Lee was compelled to sit on the stage in full view of the audience and hear these extravagant eulogies. I have frequently watched him during the laudation process. He sat like a statue of stone. Not a muscle moved nor did the slightest color come into his face. He betrayed neither approval nor disapproval. A spectator who did not know General Lee would never have guessed that the grave, dignified Virginia gentleman was the hero being praised.

"At another time Gen. Lee visited a friend not far from Lexington. His friend kept one of the most vicious dogs in all Virginia. The animal was usually chained but the morning Lee called it was loose on the front lawn. Its owner stood on the porch as Gen. Lee opened and entered the front gate. Before a word could be said in restraint the savage dog rushed at the guest. Lee saw it coming, stopped in his slow walk and waited. The dog came by leaps and bounds. Springing up it stood with two paws on Lee's breast ready to bite. Again Lee's wonderful nerve stood him in good stead. He looked the beast squarely in the eye, pushed it aside and strode onward to the house. Struck with the cool courage of the man the beast slunk cowering away. When Lee reached the house there was not in his tone or carriage the faintest indication of excitement. He had known the dangerous nature of the dog and its master had expected to see Lee torn to pieces, but the general was as calm as a summer sky."—Columbia Herald.

Stand at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough and is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits." "Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at W. C. Gaston's drug store.

NOTHING at the home products show is quite as attractive after all as the pretty young woman who has charge of the booths.
